

Allow me to introduce you to LaVon Koerner

There is no "catch," just some good stuff - FREE

Hi, I'm delighted to be connected to you by your friend

If you are anything like me, I'm a little cynical, especially if someone were to give me something of value free with absolutely no strings attached. It would make me somewhat suspicious.

You have been invited to visit my website which is 100% dedicated to sharing practical everyday ideas as to how to let the love of Jesus Christ benefit you and fill your life with unbelievable joy.

You see, I'm a retired businessman, and I just want to spend the rest of my life sharing some wonderful news with people like you who can in turn, share it with others. It's really that simple. It can best be stated and understood this way, I'm just one beggar telling you, another beggar, where I found some bread, And once you taste the bread and see how good it is, you may want to share it with other beggars who you care about, and who also want to improve their lives, just like someone shared it with you.

To taste the Bread (BTW, Jesus called it living bread), just click here, www.lavoninspirations.org and eat as much as you like. There is no charge, it was all paid for by Jesus. And like me, you can just thank Him.

In His Mighty Love and Grip,
LaVon Koerner
Enjoy
